

pharmakon

Compliance and Management Responsibility within GMP

Are you ready to elevate your quality systems and lead with confidence?

Strong GMP compliance starts with strong leadership. This course gives you the knowledge, tools, and confidence to take responsibility for compliance in your daily operations.

As a manager in a GMP-regulated environment, you play a key role in securing product quality and patient safety. This course gives you a clear and practical understanding of what EU and FDA regulators expect from management, and how these expectations influence your daily decisions, priorities, and communication.

You learn how to embed GMP principles into your organisation's culture and support a quality-first mindset across your team. We work with real cases, discussions, and practical examples to show how requirements translate into daily operations and what good compliance leadership looks like in practice.

You also gain insight into how to navigate audits and inspections with confidence, how to create clarity for your employees, and how to drive decisions that strengthen compliance and operational stability. After the course, you will be able to act with greater certainty, support your team more effectively, and contribute more actively to your organisation's quality system.

The course language is English.

At the course you will meet:

Ida Swedenborg, Educational Consultant, Pharmakon

Course facts

FORMAT

1 day

PRICE THIS YEAR

5,900 DKK excl. VAT

Sign-up dates

Hillerød

20. maj

2026

Do you have questions about this course?

Kontakt

Kursuskoordinator

Elizabeth Ruelykke

+45 48 20 62 64

erk@pharmakon.dk

Target group

Managers in the life science industry with limited or no prior GMP experience, including:

- Production and Manufacturing Managers
- Supervisors and Team Leads
- R&D and Technical Managers
- Senior Management

Your benefits

- you understand the GMP regulations and know how to apply them in your daily work
- you can recognise your own responsibilities as a manager in a GMP environment
- you know how to support a strong quality mindset in your team

Your company's benefits

- your employee understands the management responsibilities required to ensure GMP compliance
- your employee supports a culture where quality and documentation are handled correctly
- your employee contributes to more consistent decisions that align with regulatory expectations

Course agenda

09.00 – 16.00

- GMP Requirements
- Compliance
- Management Responsibility
- Personnel and Training
- Quality Mindset

The course will be a combination of interactive lectures and group work.

Sign up online at www.pharmakon.dk